

Monster

Skill: Speaking

Exercises:

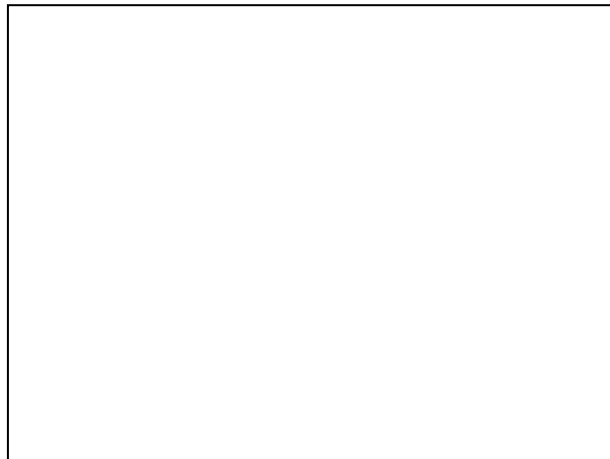

- * My personal monster: Interview grid
- * Monster dictation
- * Monster chant

My personal monster

- * Draw a monster!
- * Describe your monster to another pupil.
- * Use the interview grid and ask another pupil what his/her monster does look like!

This is my monster:

What has your monster got?

My monster has got...

Tick the correct answer.

Kathi
Andrea
Martina
Bettina
Hedwig
Christoph
Anna
Pia
Sandra
Karin
Tina
Marco

Monster chant

easy (GS 2):

Tonight I found a monster-
It sat under my bed.

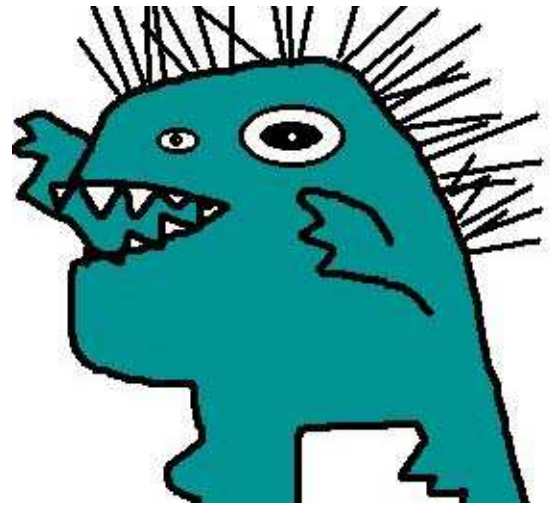

I asked it: "Can I help you?"

it answered: "I'm so sad!"

I look so scary with my seven arms and fourteen ears
and everybody runs away - it is like this for years!"

I smiled at it and said: "Now we two will be friends!"

And so the monster stopped to cry and I shook all his hands.

difficult (specially gifted children):

Group I:

A monster a monster a monster is coming!

Group II:

It has five arms and seven legs!

Group 3:

Help me, help me, I think it is hungry!

Group 4:

Don't be afraid, it's friendly and laughs!

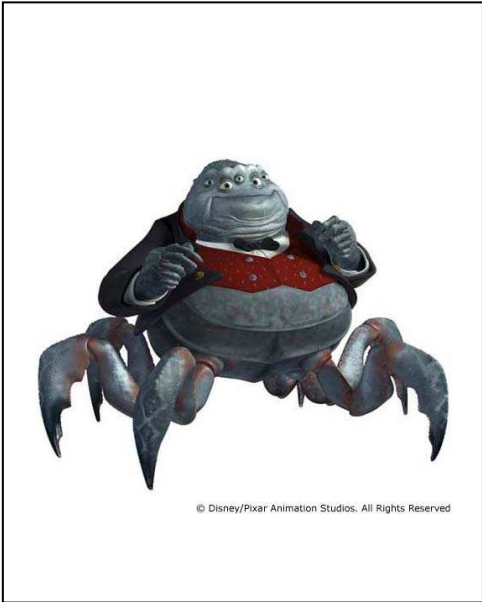

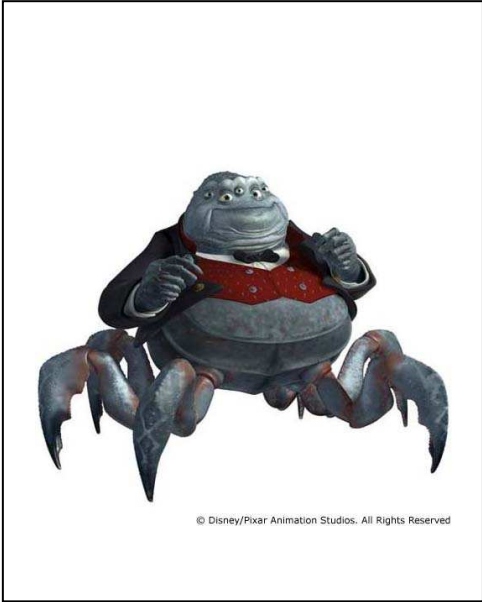

Monster song

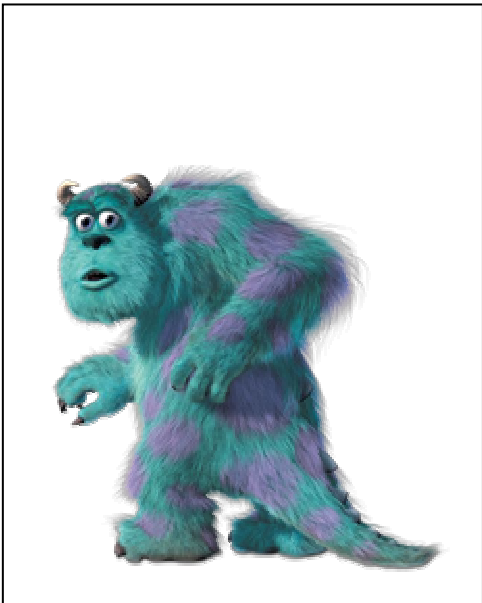

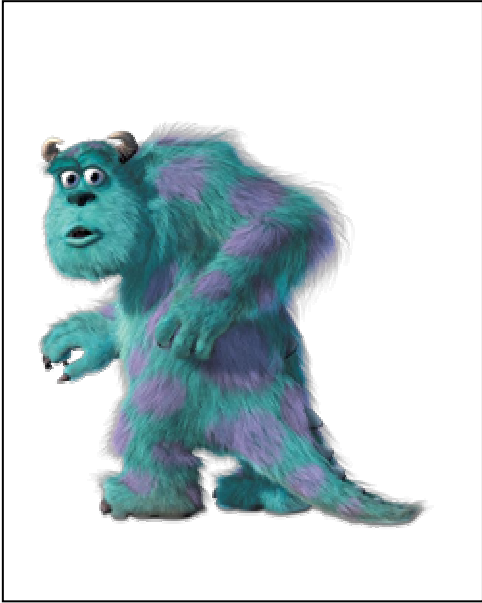

(very easy)

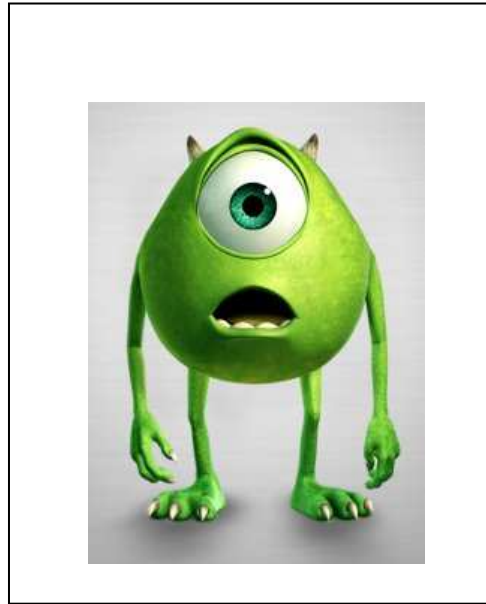

One scary, two scary, three scary monsters,
four scary, five scary, six scary monsters,
seven scary, eight scary, nine scary monsters,
ten monsters under my bed.

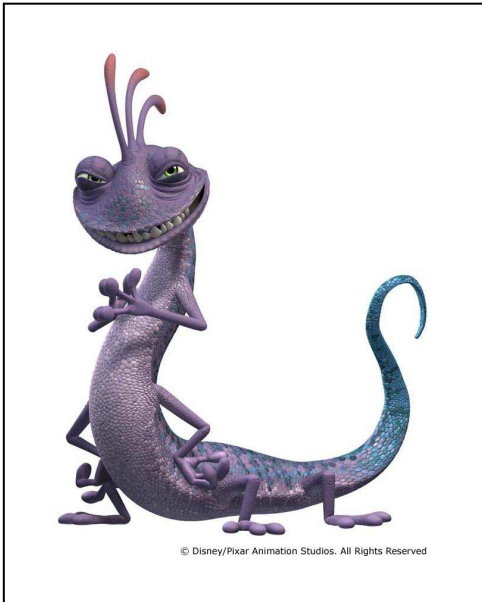

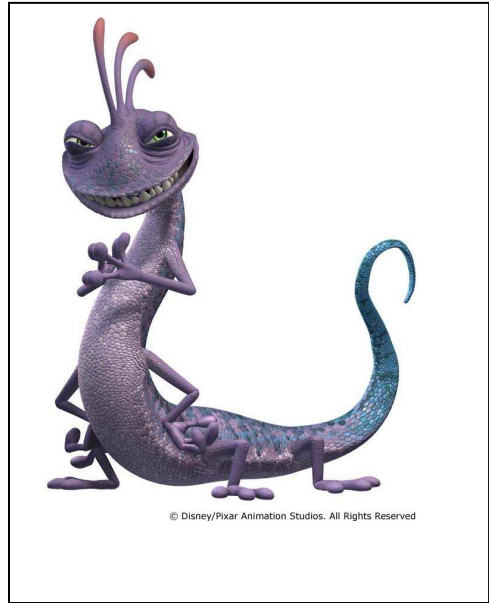

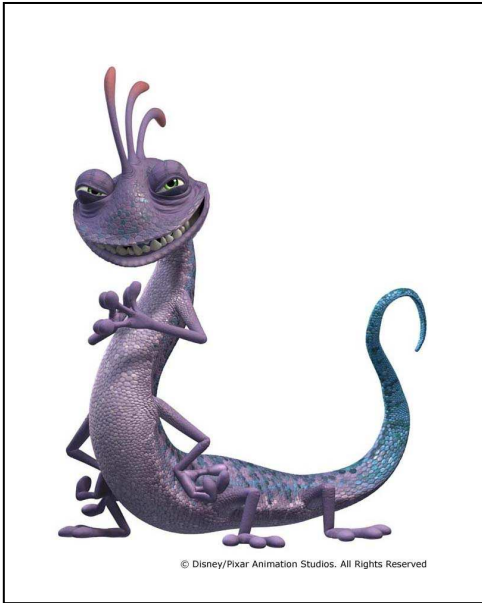

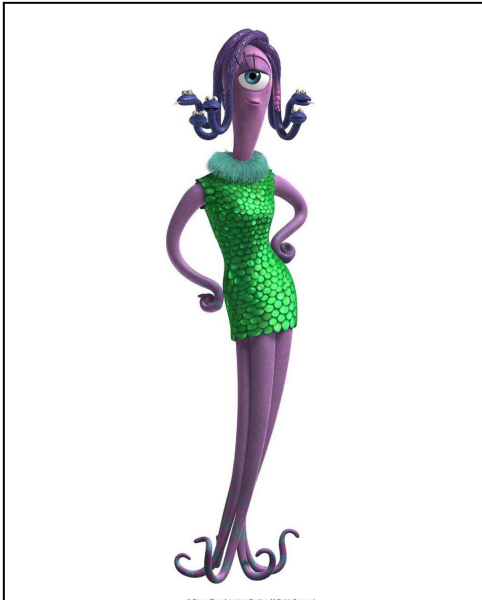

Monster Quartett

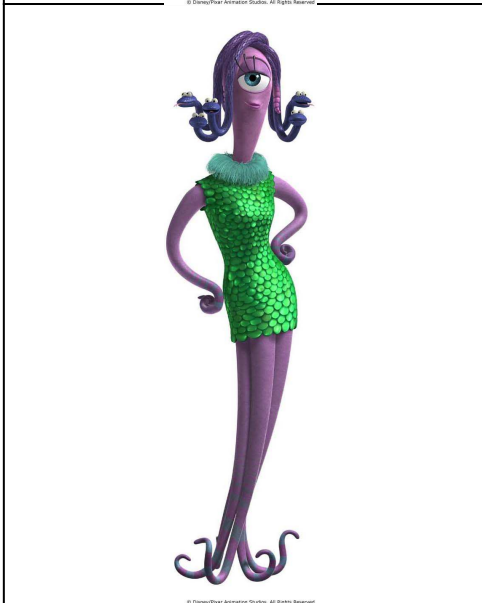

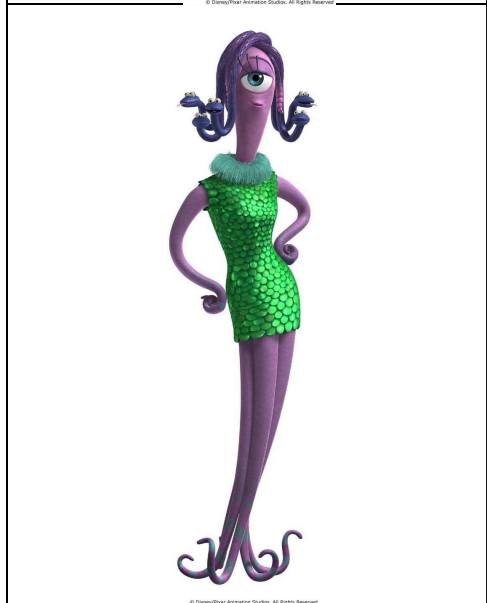

© Disney/Pixar Animation Studios. All Rights Reserved

© Disney/Pixar Animation Studios. All Rights Reserved

© Disney/Pixar Animation Studios. All Rights Reserved

© Disney/Pixar Animation Studios. All Rights Reserved

The children will know the film but it is necessary to introduce the Quartett.

© Disney/Pixar Animation Studios. All Rights Reserved

This is Waterhouse.
He has got six legs and five eyes.

This is Sulley.
He has got two eyes and is very hairy.

This is Mike.
He has just one eye.

© Disney/Pixar Animation Studios. All Rights Reserved

This is Randall.
He has got eight legs.

© Disney/Pixar Animation Studios. All Rights Reserved

This is Celia.
She has got one eye and five legs.